

Planes For Fast Attack

Halsey For Swifter And Lighter Ones Than B-36, he Tells Committee

By Douglas B. Cornell
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—(AP)—Salty Fleet Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey scoffed at the Air Force's big B-36 bomber today as a "seige" weapon. He said it can't stop an enemy and likely would never stop anything except bullets from fighter planes.

Grizzled and gray, Halsey was before the House Armed Services committee as the Navy put its top sea dogs of the last war into its fight against a military policy that cuts down on the Navy and builds up a big B-36 bomber force.

Backing Halsey up with a statement was Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, wartime chief of Naval operations who is ill but still punching for the Navy.

The Navy also had a statement from Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz to be put in later.

Want Super-Carrier

And it sandwiched in a direct plea from Capt. A. A. Burke, present assistant chief of Naval operations, for reinstatement of the Navy's thwarted plans to build a flush-deck super-aircraft carrier.

Halsey's general argument was that the need in event of war will be for fast planes which can harass an enemy's armies, knock out bridges and disrupt his transport.

He said that by-passing the armies and hammering at urban cities far to the rear would not stop an army.

If military history shows one thing, Halsey said, it is this: "Siege operations have never succeeded against an enemy while that enemy possessed troops in the field which could attack the besieging forces."

Navy men contend the B-36 could be of use only for (mass)

Some Dig Deep To Give to The Chest Fund

One Donor Empties Jar With Pennies She Had Saved

"This," said a man handing in a dollar donated to the Community Chest Fund this morning at the Chamber of Commerce office, "is one of the greatest contributions you will receive, no matter how large some of the checks might be, because this woman has so little to give with."

"It seems that these are the people most willing to give," someone else said, and then continued with the little story of two women, old age pensioners, who were both 80 years old, or more, and lived together. When the solicitor for the Community Chest called they wanted to give but wondered if they could spare the money. Finally one said to the other: "I will give a quarter if you will." And the other agreed. So the solicitor left with two quarters that meant a great deal to them. Two quarters that were added with many other quarters to help make the dollars for the Community Chest Fund.

"Yes," said the first man. "And there are so many people who can afford to give and won't." There were three in his own firm with good jobs who wouldn't give. There are people all over town with jobs, good health and dollars that they could easily spare, but they don't want to give."

Anxious to Give

The stories went on. One woman was so badly crippled with arthritis that the worker hated to even ask her to give but the woman wanted to give and did give. Solicitors are running into such cases all over town. A woman in a small business who is barely making a living and has been ill had her contribution ready. Somehow with misfortunes there seems to come a clearer vision of the life about us, a greater understanding, a deeper sense of doing for others.

Another woman worker who went to a door found the woman of the home at a time when she didn't have any money on hand to give but that certainly wasn't going to keep her from giving. Just because she didn't have dollar bills at the time or any change she wasn't going to let the opportunity to give slip by. She just went to a jar in which she had been putting pennies and emptied out the contents for the Community Chest fund. The solicitor returned to the Chamber of Commerce office with the 50 pennies.

Less than a $1,000 per capita the quota for the Community Chest is far less than in other communities. In some places it is twice as much per capita and even more.

With everybody giving what they can afford to give, Jack Cunningham, general chairman, believes that the quota should easily be reached in Sedalia.

"Believe Husband Knows Best About Everything"

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—President Truman today signed into law a raise in pay for most members of the armed services.

The White House announced that Mr. Truman signed the bill in his office at about 2:25 p. m. (CST). That was several hours in advance of the midnight deadline for his action.

The bill provides an annual increase totalling approximately $300,000,000 for members of the various military branches. It means increased pay for virtually everyone who wears a uniform, effective as of Oct. 1.

Follows One Bad Check With Another

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 12.—(AP)—A bad check cost one client the services of his attorney in the police court here today.

The check, one for $5, was given to S. C. Greathouse, an attorney, by a man in payment for his services. Monday the check bounced and the attorney asked for the man's arrest.

He was found yesterday by Assistant Prosecutor William Rosenthal. He was in jail as a result of a week-end spree, and his plea of guilty without the services of his attorney.

Chandler, Ariz. Youth Named Star Farmer

California Named Among The Silver Emblem Chapters

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Kenneth England, 19-year-old dairy farmer from Chandler, Ariz., last night was named the Star Farmer of America for 1949.

The award was presented at the twenty-second annual convention of the Future Farmers of America. It carried with it a cash prize of $1,000 from the F. F. A. Foundation, Inc.

Regional Star Farmers

Three other farm youths were named regional star farmers and given checks for $500 each. They are Robert Samuel Stevens, Jr., 19, route 2, Lynchburg, Va.; John Castroginni, 22, Montrose, Pa., and Jack Hailey King, 20, Dadeville, Mo.

The Star Farmers were selected as the best of 237 F. F. A. members who received today the American Farmer Degree, highest achievement award of the organization. Only one member in a thousand may attain the American Farmer Degree.

Four regional winners were chosen by agricultural education specialists in the office of education, federal security agency, Washington. From the four, a special judging committee chose England as the Star Farmer of America.

Judges for the final selection were John Collins, editor, weekly Kansas City Star; John L. Collier, president, B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio, and Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board, General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.

Boys' Awards Are Made By Optimist Club

Claude Murphy And Danny Paxton Get The Yearly Awards

"Boy of the Year Awards" presented by the Sedalia Optimist club went to Claude Murphy and Danny Paxton of the two Junior Optimists units of Sedalia. The presentations were made at a night meeting of the Optimist club at a meeting held Tuesday in the Pioneer Room at Dan's restaurant.

The meeting was opened by the president Frank Mehl and the invocation was given by the Rev. Elmer D. Russell. After the dinner the unit leaders, Jim Reed and Bob Phillips were introduced as well as their respective units.

The meeting was at this point turned over to Frank Coffman, Jr., chairman of boys work.

Unit Leaders Get Charters

Coffman presented the two unit leaders with charters and presented the members of each unit with official membership cards. He commended the leaders for their work and brought out the various points of the program that is in operation. He turned the meeting back to president Mehl who presented Claude Murphy, 1401 East Ninth street of the East-Enders and Danny Paxton, Twenty-Fourth and Lafayette of the Bee-veers with the "Boy of the Year Awards."

Mehl told the group the hard work the two boys had to endure before they could be presented with the award. He said the awards are the fruit of hard work and high ideals.

He also told of the important work of the various committees connected with the boys work program and announced the progress that has been made on the Optimist cabin located south of Smithton.

Dr. Gus Salley Entertains

Program chairman Pat Darnell introduced the special guest of the evening, Dr. Gus C. Salley of Warsaw. Although he is acclaimed an amateur magician his sleight of the hand trickery baffled the adults as well as the seventy some boys. The entire show presented by Dr. Salley was a point of discussion by every one in the banquet room. A group of youngsters sitting in front of Dr. Salley were forever trying to discover his secrets but he cleverly pulled one trick after another out of his little black box.

Barbers Increase Haircut Price in London

LONDON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Barbers in The City, London's financial district, raised the price of a haircut from a shilling sixpence (21 cents) to two shilling (28 cents) today. Outside the financial district, however, the 21-cent haircut remained.

Guilty Plea Made in Fatal Shooting

PINEVILLE, Mo., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Ted Hodgwood of McDonald county pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of manslaughter in the fatal shooting several months ago of John Lewis during a tavern brawl near the Missouri-Oklahoma line.

Circuit Judge Thomas Johnson deferred action until Oct. 24 to hear a report on further investigation.

Mailed Dollar, Got it Back at Post Office

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn., Oct. 12.—(AP)—H. A. Cunningham, a busy man, walked to a mail box yesterday, a letter in one hand and a dollar in the other.

He opened the chute — and mailed the dollar.

He waited at the post office and got his dollar back — then mailed the letter.

Sliding Scale Upon Price Supports

Senate Votes it, Setting Stage For Bitter Struggle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—A sliding-scale system of government price supports under major products won senate approval today.

After weeks of angry arguments that split party lines, the senators sent the so-called "price stabilization" act back to the House which has adopted a different plan. Passage was by voice vote.

Another bitter struggle between the Senate and House over what's best for the farmer — especially during the 1950 congressional election year — now looms. And an apparent disagreement between President Truman and two of his chief lieutenants threatens to cloud the issue for the Democrats in next year's campaign.

Both the President and Vice President Barkley are said to favor continuance of the wartime level of farm price props new existing.

Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, is author of the Senate's bill and Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill) backed it.

Back in July, the House voted to retain 90 per cent of parity price supports under cotton, wheat, corn, rice, tobacco and peanuts during 1950. The House also retained present supports under a long list of other commodities.

The Senate bill would allow 90 per cent of parity supports for tobacco whenever growers voted controls but would permit supports to vary from 90 to 75 per cent on the other basic crops.

For next year tobacco, wheat, corn and cotton probably would stay at the 90 per cent level, since they presumably will be under production controls.

Parity is a price calculated to give farmers a "fair" return in terms of things they must buy.

Doubt Adjourning Saturday

In passing the variable support bill today the Senate followed a prediction made this morning by Senator Lucas.

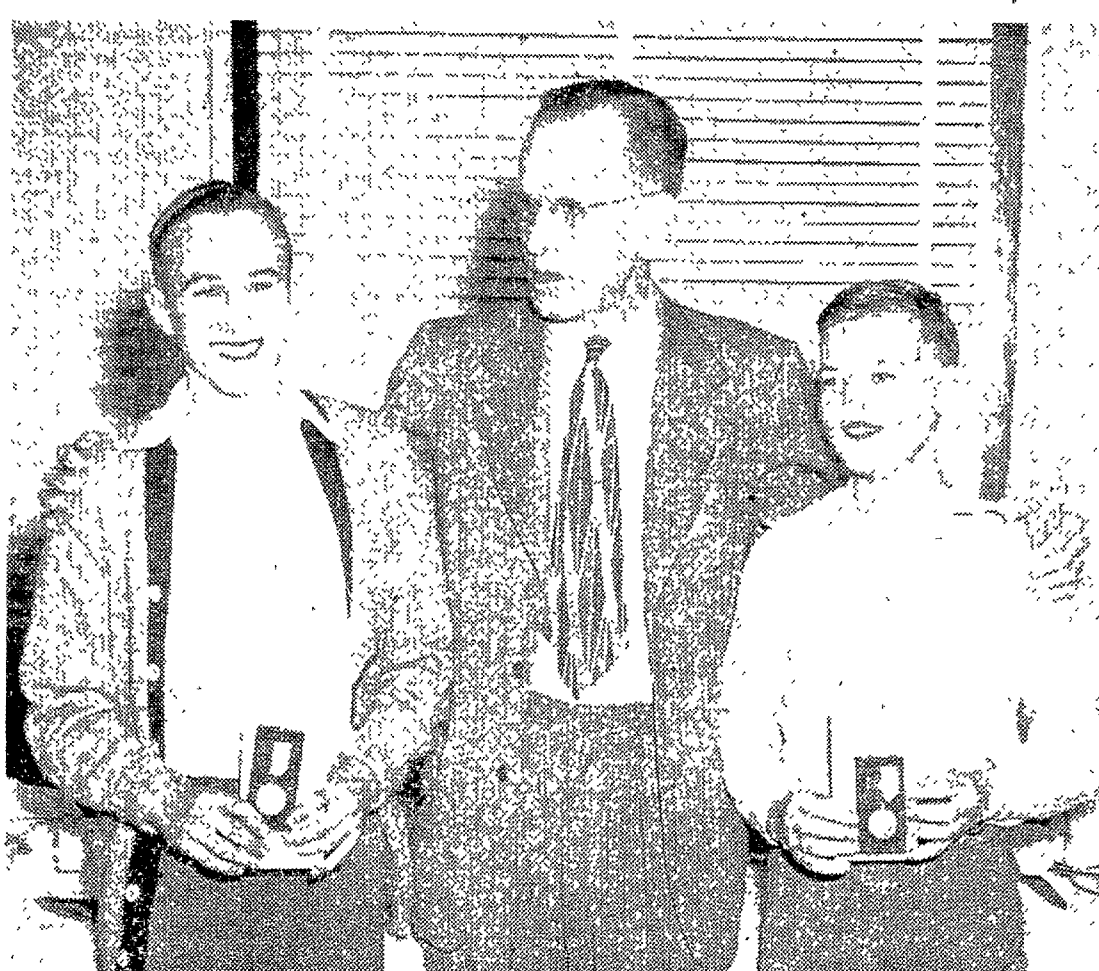

Lucas gave his forecast to reporters after a brief conference with President Truman. He said at the same time that he now sees no chance for Congress to adjourn by Saturday night.

First Toll of Bell For His Funeral

ST. MICHEL DES SAINTS, Quebec, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Conrad Delorme looked at the new bell in his village church steeple last Sunday and wondered out loud—would it ring first for a wedding or a funeral. Then Conrad left to guide a party on an airplane hunting trip.

The bell tolls today for the first time—for the funeral of 32-year-old Conrad Delorme. His plane crashed late Sunday.

Would Name Highway 50

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 12.—(AP)—A bill to designate U. S. Highway 50 across the state as George Washington Memorial highway was introduced in the Missouri senate today by Sen. Milton F. Napier (R) of St. Louis. He recalled that an earlier bill to accomplish the same purpose was defeated by one vote last spring.

Sen. Edward V. Long (D) of Bowling Green offered a measure which he said would strengthen the present teachers' permanent tenure law.

It would allow a teacher to appeal to the courts if she were fired by her school board.

No Prediction When Trains Begin to Roll

Progress in Mo. Pac. Strike Peace Talks Furthered

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Reports of progress continued to flavor Missouri Pacific peace talks today.

An estimated 60 of 282 claims that led to the month-old railroad strike have been settled in two days of negotiations.

Guy A. Thompson, MoPac trustee who tried unsuccessfully to end the strike in early discussions, was cheerful.

"The conference is proceeding in good spirit, earnestly and, expeditiously," he said today.

Chief negotiators for the railroad are Paul J. Neff, executive officer and Theodore Short, personnel officer.

Questions involving additional expenditures by the railroad are referred to Thompson who as trustee in bankruptcy must get court approval of such matters. But issues involving working conditions are negotiated by Neff, Short and officials of the four striking unions.

R. E. Davidson, brotherhood spokesman, said that if the conference goes along as it has thus far, "there is a possibility for early settlement."

He and the railroad men refused to predict, however, when the trains would begin to roll.

The two sides entered into direct negotiations Monday on request of officials of eight states affected by the walkout.

The strike could end when the unions and the railroad agree on a method of settling claims not resolved in direct negotiations.

Arkansas Hard Hit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Gov. Sidney McMath of Arkansas told President Truman today he hopes for settlement of the Missouri Pacific strike "within the next few days."

McMath informed reporters afterwards that the negotiators are "making progress."

He said the strike has hit Arkansas harder than any other state and that governors of the areas are doing everything they can to get a settlement.

He said he did not ask any new move by the president.

Reds On To Take Canton

Demand Made by Russia of World Wide Census on Armaments

By the Associated Press

Chinese Communists today were rushing in to take Canton. No effective nationalist force stood in their way.

The nationalist government fled to Chungking, the wartime capital away in the interior. Roads leading out of Canton were jammed with refugees.

Hong Kong dispatches said that thousands of Canton refugees are pouring into that British crown colony. They came in a steady stream by train, plane and boat. One steamship with a normal capacity of 309 brought 700.

Hong Kong is overcrowded. In addition to the regular population the British have quartered 40,000 defense forces in the tiny island colony and the adjacent leased territory of Kowloon.

Some reports in Canton said the Communists have already reached the outlying suburbs. Others said the advance units of the Reds were 35 miles away.

There was no sign of Nationalist resistance, although there were supposed to be five Nationalist armies to defend the tottering capital. An estimated 80,000 government troops were falling back of the city. The Communists speculated these troops would be evacuated to Formosa where Chiang Kai-shek has built a fortress for a last ditch stand.

Nationalist leaders continued to squabble in the face of defeat. Acting President Li Tsung-Jen was said to be resisting efforts of Chiang to run what was left of the South China show.

U. S. Secretary of State Acheson is expected to outline United States policy on China in a closed door talk with the Senate foreign relations committee in Washington.

The Soviet Union has renewed her demand for a world wide census by the United Nations of all armaments including atomic bombs. Under a proposal made by deputy foreign minister Jakob Malik yesterday before the U. N. security council, each nation would report on its own weapons.

He proposed no provision for checking on the truth of the statements.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate, told reporters: "A census of weapons without verification is meaningless. This is another attempt to fool the public."

Prague correspondents reported purge arrests of thousands are continuing in Czechoslovakia. The 11-day old purge seems to aim at liquidating the middle class — small shopkeepers, landlords, professional men.

Nationalized business is springing up in shops whose owners were seized. The business of the small druggist, baker and book store has been taken over by the Communist-controlled nationalist administration. Reliable reports said many of the persons seized are now in forced labor camps.

Big business and industries were long ago taken over by the Communists.

In Berlin Otto Grotewohl, the prime minister of the new Soviet sponsored eastern German government, announced his cabinet and policy. He said the new government's foreign policy would adhere to that adopted by the Soviet satellite foreign ministers at their Warsaw conference in 1948.

No Action On Senate Farm Bill

President Calls In Leaders To Urge Early Passage; Senate Recesses

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(AP)—Despite a presidential plea for action, the Senate recessed last night without reaching a vote on the hot issue of farm price supports.

Although Democratic leader Lucas called the Senate to meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow in an effort to clear the bill, the delay threatened the drive for final adjournment of Congress this week.

The House and Senate appeared to be far apart on their farm legislation theories, and other prospective items of sharp dispute such as the displaced persons bill also await action.

Meet At White House

Before today's unsuccessful drive to clear the farm measure, President Truman summoned his congressional leaders to the White House to ask them to speed action.

It was not entirely clear, however, whether Mr. Truman favored the so-called flexible crop support bill sponsored by Senator Clinton Anderson (D-NM), his former secretary of agriculture, or one providing higher, less flexible support levels.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, who sat in on part of the White House conference, said Mr. Truman told his legislative lieutenants he wanted them to "get together on a bill he can sign." Ross wouldn't say what kind of a bill, if any, was specified. Rep. Cecil F. White (D-Calif.) had reported after a call on the President yesterday that Mr. Truman was strong for supporting basic crops at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a level calculated to give the farmer purchasing power equal to that he enjoyed in a past period generally favorable to agriculture.

Boy Admits Part In 12 Burglaries

CARTHAGE, Mo., Oct. 12—(AP)—Police here said Gerald Lee Clark, 16, Dallas, Tex., admitted he and two companions, who escaped committed 12 burglaries last week-end.

State Highway Trooper Bill East said Clark related the trio got $81.55 in cash and a large amount of loot in six burglaries at Joplin, two at Seneca, one at Cartersville, Mo., and three at Afton, Okla.

The trooper said the loot included inner tubes, tires and two pistols, the latter taken from Sid Tyler's studio at Afton. One of these was an 1863 four-barrelled Derringer and the other a .38 Colt automatic.

Names A Companion

East said Clark named the driver of the car as a 26-year-old Dallas man and their companion as a Dallas boy "between 14 and 16 years old."

day night, the driver of the car drove eastward with the bulk of the loot. The boy headed westward. Neither has been found.

Trooper East said no charges had been filed pending investigation of Clark's statement that a quantity of loot in previous burglaries would be found stored in Dallas. Police there were asked to investigate.

In his statement Clark said he lived in Dallas, with his mother and a sister. His father is dead. He has not been in school the last three years. He said he had a juvenile court record at Dallas and Paris, Tex.

Jet Pilot Killed As Bomb Explodes

EGLIN AIR BASE, Fla., Oct. 21—(AP)—A jet fighter's own bomb destroyed the plane in flight on Tuesday during an Air Force capsule-size war to show ground support methods.

The plane, a Republic F-84 Thunderjet, was one of four which had just completed a machine-gun strafing and parafrag bomb attack against a target representing an enemy command post.

Seconds beyond the target, a flash occurred, one plane came apart, with the main section skidding to an explosive finish. At least 1,000 student officers and guests saw the tragedy.

Officers who inspected the wreckage said there was no doubt that one of the parafrag bombs had exploded beside the plane. The tail section was heavily damaged by fragments.

Officers speculated that the parachute caught on the container, permitting the bomb to swing out and back against the aircraft. Pulling out the chute arms the bombs, with the fuse set for detonation on contact.

Officials identified the pilot killed in the F-84 as Second Lt. Robert S. Kavanaugh, son of Mrs. Lois Kavanaugh of Roanoke, Va.

Mistrial In Tucker Mail Fraud Case

CHICAGO, Oct. 12—(AP)—The multi-million dollar Preston Tucker mail fraud case was declared a mistrial Tuesday and will start from scratch again Monday.

Tucker is the man who planned a radical rear-engine automobile that never got into mass production. He and seven associates went on trial in federal court Oct. 4, charged with mail fraud and violations of the federal securities law.

Testimony of a government witness that one of the defendants had a 15 year old criminal record ended the case.

Federal Judge Walter J. Labuy held this was a prejudicial remark. He dismissed the jury, ordered 100 new jurors summoned and set a new trial for Oct. 17.

Visit to 'Home Place' With Relatives Was a Real Joy

Although Mrs. Estella Dial, of 1531 East Fifth street, has lived in Sedalia several years one of the things she likes to do best is to go back to the "Home Place" as she calls it to spend a few hours, and now and then some of her children drop in there, too, for a while.

Knowing how much she enjoyed her visits to the "Home Place" which is located eight miles south of Nelson, the children decided that one of the nicest things they could do for her birthday anniversary which was on October 5, was to plan for a party for her there, which would be a complete surprise. To make the surprise more complete and because they would all be able to be there if it were on Sunday they planned it for October 9. To keep it a surprise they visited her on the fifth as always with gifts.

For several days they made plans, worked cleaning up the "Home Place" inside and out and then at last the big day arrived. Somebody went by and asked Mrs. Dial if she would like to go to the country and she was delighted. It was a big thrill to go to the "Home Place" and she fixed a picnic lunch, for there she would spend the day. She bundled up some old clothes, too, because she thought it would give her a little time to tidy up the house. But as the car neared the "Home Place," instead of the stillness she had expected there were people everywhere, her children, relatives, neighbors and friends, some she hadn't seen in years. As she got out of the car and started to enter the home she found it spotlessly clean with arrangements of fresh flowers all over it, instead of filled with cobwebs and dust as she had expected.

Tables were spread under the large maple tree which had been set out years ago by the youngest of her children. Her memory went back to other days very much like this with children climbing the tree, some of the group spreading the lunch and everybody talking at once.

Rain Caused Rush Indoors

All were so busy having a good time that nobody noticed the dark clouds gathering and even with the first few raindrops didn't seem to bother, but when suddenly there came a real down-pour everybody ran for shelter in the house. In the "Home Place" there was visiting, singing and prayer as the rain poured down outside and then someone remembered that rain meant that the cars would get stuck and there was a dash to the cars to get them on the gravel road. There were hurried goodbyes as each group ran to their own cars, but the ground was already soft and muddy by the rain and the cars couldn't make it under their own power. That, however, didn't dampen the spirits of the crowd, there was still a way out, a good team of horses, and even being pulled out of the mud was fun.

Finally the last car pulled onto solid ground and those remaining at the house were taking a second look around to see that everybody had their baskets and that the house was in order when the sun came out bright again. A little later as they climbed in the last car on the gravel road after locking up the house, the sun was still brightly shining and the clouds had disappeared.

Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Thomas, of Shackford, Mrs. Robert Cunningham, Mrs. Dave Wilson and daughter, Carolyn Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dial and Mrs. Stephen Hufford, and family, Vivalene, Nina, Gloria, Steve, Henry and Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cornine and children, Marjorie Ann, Beverly and Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Dial and family, Charles, Henry Allen and Albert and Ben Dial, all of Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dial and son, David, of Windsor, Mrs. Bessie Carpenter and daughter, Doris.

Mr. and Mrs. Dainie Landon and family, Donald, Patsy and Janice, Mrs. Verla Cornine, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nitzert and son, John Raymond and Mrs. Estella Dial, all of Sedalia. All but one of her seven children were with Mrs. Dial for the day. One daughter, Mrs. William Shay, of Courtney, could not be present.

Others also observing their birthday anniversaries were Mrs. Myrtle Dial and Ben Dial.

Oath by Minton As Justice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(P)—Sherman Minton, 58, took the oath as a justice of the U. S. supreme court today in a White House ceremony.

Minton, a former Democratic senator and "New Dealer" from Indiana, was sworn in by Chief Justice Vinson. President and Mrs. Truman and scores of other notables were present.

The ceremony took place on the porch just outside Mr. Truman's office before around 400 persons standing in the Rose garden.

As he handed his former Senate colleague his commission as an associate justice, the President told the crowd:

"I've got a duty to perform which is one of the most pleasurable in my political career. "I'm handing Mr. Justice Minton his commission as a member of the greatest court in the world."

President Truman picked Minton from the Seventh U. S. circuit court of appeals at Chicago where he has served since 1941. He succeeds the late Justice Wiley Rutledge.

Vinson was the first to congratulate Minton. Mr. Truman gave a vigorous handshake. Then there was a full 15 minutes of handshaking with the spectators, including Tom C. Clark, recently appointed to the court to succeed the late Justice Murphy.

Kroger Slogan Contest Underway

Launching its sixth fall sale campaign today, The Kroger Co. is headlining the annual event with a unique slogan contest. Titled the "National Brand Treasure Hunt," the contest is designed to emphasize the importance Kroger places on nationally advertised food store products, Kansas City Kroger branch manager said today.

Featuring 5555 prizes totaling $65,000, said to be the largest prize structure ever offered by a retail firm, the contest is expected to attract thousands of entries, L. K. Harvey added. Contest entrants are required to identify one of the 54 featured national brands with its slogan and attach the printed brand name to the entry. They must also complete the last line of a jingle and attach the dated portion from a Kroger coffee bag, or the strip of metal from a Kroger coffee can.

Every prize winner also will be eligible for the grand prize contest, in which $5,000 in cash will be awarded, Harvey explained.

To provide continuing interest throughout the five-week period from Oct. 10 to Nov. 13, the contest has been divided into five separate contests. Each week 1111 prizes, headed by a new Buick sedan, will be awarded. Other prizes each week include: Ten all-expense paid week-ends for two in New York and a tailored Evans handbag, 100 Westinghouse "pop-up" toasters, and 1000 boxes of Hollywood nylon hosiery. All Kroger stores will feature displays offering clues to national brand slogans.

Hearing Suit On Injunction

Judge Blair on Bench in One Against Okee L. Rice

Hearings of an injunction suit filed in circuit court by Rice Leghorn Farm, Inc., against Okee L. Rice, one of the company's stockholders and directors, and Willie Kreiser, former company superintendent, opened today in circuit court with Judge Sam C. Blair of Jefferson City on the bench. The trial is being held to ascertain if a temporary injunction shall or shall not be sustained.

Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, who is in Kansas City, granted a temporary injunction in circuit court, August 23, 1949 restraining Mr. Rice and Mr. Kreiser from using a flockowners mailing list, which company contents is its exclusive property.

William M. Huston, Marshall, president of the Rice Leghorn Farm, Inc., one of the key witnesses for the plaintiff side, took the stand this morning at 9:45 o'clock, and answered a series of questions which consisted mostly of the present financial status of the corporation, and answered other questions relating how large sums of money had been expended during 1948. Mr. Huston was the only witness this morning, and again took the stand at 1:00 o'clock to answer questions presented by the defendant's attorneys.

Ready To Hear It All

This morning, H. L. Harbey, Marshall attorney for the plaintiff, interrupted the questioning of Mr. Huston long enough to ask Judge Blair if he would limit the issues. Judge Blair replied he was ready to hear the whole case as made up by the pleadings, as he didn't have anything else to do for four days.

Witnesses who have been subpoenaed for the plaintiff are: W. W. Henry, Hickory county; O. L. Jael, Benton county; J. O. Gordon, Saline county; Frank Silvers, Ralph Allen and Kenneth Marti, all of Henry county; J. O. Deitmar, Pettis county.

The nineteen witnesses for the defendants are: Carl Becker, Johnson county; Fritz Schroeder, George Kaden, Ira Palmer, Homer Brauer, all of Benton county; Elmer Meyer, Arthur Friedley, Mrs. J. B. Parker, all of Morgan county; George Titworth, John Sudduth, E. F. Kaiser, Pete Billings, A. M. Kendrick, Loy Smith, Raymond Neitzert, John W. King, Gris R. Raines, Robert Nicholas and H. H. Nutt, all of Pettis county.

Attorneys representing the plaintiffs are H. L. Harbey of Marshall, and John Martin.

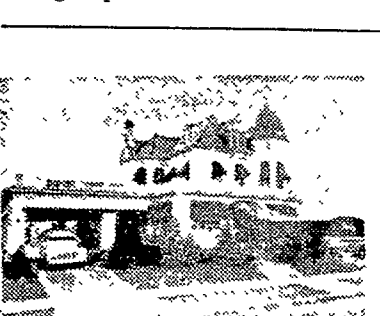

William F. Brown and Fred F. Wesner are attorneys for the defendants.

Split by Club on Admitting Negroes

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—(P)—The College Club of St. Louis, an organization of women graduates, split up yesterday over the issue of admitting Negroes to membership.

The vote was 131 for, 188 against. After the balloting all officers resigned to clear the way for formation of a new group that will accept Negroes and the election of new officers for the present club.

The action meant secession from the American Association of University Women, which demand that Negroes be allowed in affiliate groups.

Planes For Quick Attack

attack" on large areas. With a reference to that, Halsey said a successful war "cannot be fought by carrying on separate campaigns against industrial and civil populations."

He scornfully compared this concept of strategic air warfare to medieval "siege" operations. Halsey, whose carrier-based airmen drummed the Japanese up and down the Pacific, said the lesson from World War II is the need for immediate heavy air attacks at the military body of the enemy "who would be trying to crunch his way across Europe."

The Chief Objective
"The objective of stopping and finally driving back the enemy on-rush can only be done by attacking the enemy's armed forces and the transport system which moves him and his supplies."

Bombers by-passing these paramount military targets, he said, "won't stop anything—except possibly bullets from the thousands of high-flying fast fighters an aggressor will have."

Strategic bombing of rear area population centers can't stop enemy ground forces, Halsey rumbled on to an attentive committee.

"The mass bombing of cities can produce delay, remote and indirect effects on the course of the war."

"The weight of evidence in our own and the British bombing surveys shows this very clearly."

"These reports show that it was a mistake to believe the B-17s or later B-29s, could, by unescorted mass bombing attacks on cities, gain military advantage in proportion to their cost, or to believe that results would be directly and immediately effective."

Must Command Air

Halsey went on to say that the lesson from the last war that stands out clearly above all others is "if you want to go anywhere in modern war, in the air, on the sea, on the land—you must have command of the air."

Command of the air won't be gained by heavy bombers, Halsey said, and added:

"It is gained by fighting the enemy air force and defeating it. It is gained by attacking air fields and their supporting installations."

"It is gained by shooting down the enemy pilots faster than he can train them."

Refers to "Eurasia"

Most of the witnesses in the hearings have come right out and mentioned Russia as a potential foe. But Halsey, in his first reference to a possible enemy, didn't. He spoke of "Eurasia."

Halsey was arguing that the best way to cripple an enemy is to wreck his bridges and railroads.

"We know that Eurasia is weak in transportation," he said. "It is a thing they have the least of. It's what we have the most of. We would be foolish not to use our superiority to hit the enemy where it hurts the most."

Fast, long-range aircraft can hit the enemy's supply system where it is weakest, he said, and accomplish far more than bombing attacks on "strongly defended industrial and urban centers."

Halsey said there is a need for strategic bombers.

"I believe that there is a place in our arsenal of weapons for the very best bombers we can get."

"I favor the use of these bombers against strategic targets of oil and transportation."

"But I do not favor the concept that the principal weapon in our national arsenal should be a weapon designed to conduct siege operations."

Military history proves, Halsey said, that siege operations never succeed while an enemy has troops in the field.

Expect Early End to Strike

Murray so Says As to Steel; Near Crisis on Coal

By the Associated Press

Philip Murray, CIO president, predicts the steel strike will end soon with a union victory.

But the strike-bound steel industry made no reply and federal conciliators went ahead with efforts to negotiate settlement.

In other labor developments today:

John L. Lewis and soft coal operators went back to contract talks at White Sulphur Springs, Va., as the coal strike continued in its fourth week. Conciliators said a crisis is near.

About 100 left-wing faction leaders of the CIO in Cleveland asked Murray to do all he can to "keep the CIO united."

Talk that left-wing CIO unions may break away and form a third major labor organization was denied by Grant Oakes, president of the CIO Farm Equipment workers. He denied reports which named him as one of the key planners of the rebel move.

In New Orleans, southern CIO officials and the president of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers investigated reports that 8,000 of the 15,000 southern members of the gas and coke union have seceded.

In Washington, a group including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt accused the steel industry of acting "in favor of its profits and against the national interests" in the steel strike.

Insists on Acceptance
The statement was issued by the Americans For Democratic Action (ADA), a political group. It said the industry should accept a presidential fact finding board's report, and declared the union's demands for company-paid pensions are justified.

In New York, the Iron Age, a trade weekly, said consumers' steel stocks are smaller than had been thought when the steel strike started. It said big fabricators can work 30 days longer without curtailing production.

Murray made his victory prediction at Youngstown, Ohio, yesterday in a pep talk to strikers there.

He said the steel industry had forced 454,000 CIO steelworkers to strike in their fight for free pensions and insurance.

The steel strike, and the 24 day old strike of 380,000 United Mine Workers—who also seek welfare and pension concessions—are growing more intense daily in their effect on American economy.

Iron Age said that unless there is real bargaining soon the nation can expect "one of the worst tieups in its history."

Steel fabricators, employing a half million steelworkers, are threatened by strikes set to start Saturday, when some contracts expire.

In Chicago, International Harvester company said it will lay off 3,500 more workers Friday in a parts tieup, resulting from a strike by 4,600 CIO Farm Equipment Workers. About 17,000 Harvester employees at other plants already are idle as a result of the tieup.

Firm For a 48 Group Air Force

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(P)—President Truman today renewed his opposition to a 48-group Air Force at a White House conference with members of the Senate Appropriations committee.

The Senators told newsmen afterward, however that the president suggested he would accept the House position on funds for stockpiling of strategic materials.

The two controversies are holding up passage of an appropriations bill carrying funds for all the armed services.

Senate Democratic leader Lucas (Ill.), who participated in the conference, said Mr. Truman was standing by his position in favor of a 48-group Air Force, instead of the 58 groups insisted upon by the House, because of the "savings of $741,000,000."

Lucas and the other Senators, including Wherry (Neb.), the Republican floor leader, said Mr. Truman did not say he would veto a bill carrying the House version.

The outcome of the conference at the White House left the future of the bill as uncertain as ever.

Says Wear Suspenders To Reduce Waistline

DENVER, Oct. 12.—(P)—Want to reduce your waistline without dieting, fella?

Wear suspenders, says an expert attending the American Dietetic Association. The slim advisor who doesn't want to be named said the secret is this:

Belt wearing men unconsciously expand their stomachs to keep their trousers from slipping.

He said 26 pot bellied men switched to braces and reduced their waistlines an average of one and five-eighths inches.

Proposed School District R-2

This proposed district will include a large area of north Pettis county, combining the existing districts of Houstonia and Hughesville, which are high school districts, with Higgins, Hazel Hill, Prairie Ridge, Smelser, Frisbie, Houppell, Woodland, which are rural districts. This would be the largest district in area in the county, and would have the largest assessed valuation of any district outside Sedalia.

The total combined assessed valuation for the area is $3,708,808. There are 218 resident elementary pupils in the area and 99 high school pupils. The assessed valuation back of each child would be $17,013. During the school year 1949-50 only of the two rural schools included in this proposed district are operating. The other five are closed, and most of the elementary pupils are being transported either to Hughesville or to Houstonia. These two high school districts also receive a number of non-resident pupils from Longwood, as well as a few from other rural districts not included in the area. Their high school busses have been operating satisfactorily for a number of years, and roads are such that they are able to give good service.

Both Houstonia and Hughesville have relatively new school plants. They have both been last class schools in the past, but under the plan of classifying now being put into operation, their small size will prevent them from being rated as AAA. Frisbie district has no school building in the district, as its building burned several years ago and has not been replaced. Some of the rural buildings are quite good condition; others are old and in need of repairs.

The voting places in this proposed area will be at Houstonia and at Hughesville. The qualified voters of Houstonia, Higgins, Hazel Hill and Prairie Ridge districts will vote at Houstonia. The qualified voters of Hughesville, Smelser, Frisbie, Woodland and Houppell district will vote at Hughesville. Polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Tuesday, November 1st, for voting on the proposal to reorganize these nine districts into an enlarged school district.

Twenty-five Die In a Collision

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 12.—(P)—A report-bound passenger train crashed into a freight just outside the big President Peron terminal here late last night, killing about 25 persons and injuring about 100.

A police communique announced 18 dead and 68 injured were identified, but admitted these figures lagged far behind the full toll.

The accident, the worst since train services were nationalized two years ago, occurred on the General Bartolome Mitre line, a half mile out of the Peron terminal.

Most of the casualties were in the second class sections of the passenger train, which took the full brunt of the collision. Many in the first class section, however, were slightly injured.

President Juan D. Peron and his wife, Evita, and cabinet ministers hurried to the scene.

Unofficial counts indicated that all the victims were probably Argentine nationals.

The accident was the third major one to strike Argentina in the last two weeks. An airliner carrying members of the Eva Peron Foundation who had been on a rescue mission to Ecuador crashed at Castilla, Sept. 26, killing five and injuring 19. Sixty-eight persons died in the sinking of the navy minesweeper Fournier in the Straits of Magellan. The Fournier had left Rio Galles Sept. 21.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Congressman Kilday Tells Radford That Navy Should Offer Constructive Criticism

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The public now knows what happened when Admiral Arthur Radford testified at an open session of the House armed services committee. But they don't know what happened at the closed door session which preceded his testimony.

After Admiral Radford read his confidential statement — later repeated in the open session — of gripes against the air force and defense secretary Louis Johnson, Congressman Paul Kilday of Texas remarked to him:

"Admiral, I am disappointed that you did not come here with an affirmative statement of what the navy can do, instead of a criticism of what the air force can do."

"I'm just the leadoff man," replied Radford. "Later on we'll have some witnesses on the affirmative side."

"That's my point," shot back Kilday. "The navy has chosen to lead off by criticizing the other fellow, instead of telling us what the navy can do and how much you need in surface ships, submarines and air power."

"It's obvious to me that you want to promote all this discord, which must be of no little comfort to a potential enemy. I'm for ending it right here and now, without letting this committee be used to carry on such bickering at an open hearing."

Secretary of the Navy Matthews didn't open his mouth until after the committee overrode Kilday's protests and voted 9 to 6 to give the admirals an open hearing. Then he remarked to Chairman Carl Vinson of Georgia, who sided with the admirals: "The responsibility is now yours."

"Mr. Secretary," interposed Kilday, "you might as well cancel out your court-martial of Captain Crommelin. He is not promoting discord any longer. This committee has taken over for him after the vote today."

Germany is Still Nazi

Just back from Germany, Senator Lester Hunt of Wyoming warns that it will take an army of educators following up the army of occupation to defeat Nazism in Germany.

"There is no such thing as de-Nazifying a Nazi," the Wyoming Democrat insists.

The only solution, Hunt believes, is to place an American superintendent or principal over every German school and an American president over every German university. "It would cost us less," he promises, "than the first month of World War III."

Free Air Ride

The Democrats were tipped off that this columnist was checking on what air force planes might fly to Kansas City for Bill Boyle's big home-coming jamboree. Possibly this had something to do with the fact that not a single air force plane made the trip.

However, a few high officials still got a free ride — in a plush, private plane owned by Phillips Petroleum company. This plane was put at the disposal of the Democratic national committee by Phillips' chief lobbyist, R. C. Joplin, and its free passengers included Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin, U. S. treasurer Georgia Neese Clark and assistant secretary of commerce Tom Davis. The plane also stopped in St. Louis to pick up Vice President Barkley who had been courtin'.

After the party, Phillips Petroleum flew Barkley and Tobin back to Washington, then the plane returned to its home base in Oklahoma.

Note—The oil companies have been lobbying for control of tidelands oil and against Leland Olds' confirmation to the federal power commission. But if Mr. Joplin was in a mood to lobby, he didn't get a chance with Vice President Barkley. For the VP slept both ways.

Senator Miller's Vote

The sudden death of Senator Bert Miller of Idaho may hold up displaced persons legislation until next year.

The bill removing religious discrimination from the displaced persons act was supposed to come up for Senate debate this week, but now the judiciary committee will be expected to attend Senator Miller's funeral in Boise.

Since this is the committee handling the displaced persons bill, it may prevent the bill from reaching the floor at all.

However, there is one thing the Senate ought to know. The evening before Senator Miller died, as one of his last wishes, he told Senator Magnuson of Washington that he wanted to vote for the displaced persons bill. Undoubtedly Senator Miller would have preferred to have his colleagues stay in Washington and vote to aid thousands of refugees who are still alive, than mourn over him in Idaho.

Japanese Competition

While the state department plans to lower tariffs, a New England manufacturer is getting ready to put the blast on General Douglas MacArthur for encouraging Japanese production of cheap, competitive goods for the American market.

He is Alfred F. Reilly of Providence, R. I., president of Evans Case company, biggest U. S. producer of cigarette lighters. Reilly will demand a congressional investigation of MacArthur on the ground that he is using U. S. tax-

Reilly will charge that MacArthur has encouraged Jap production of cheap cigarette lighters to a point where American manufacturers are in serious jeopardy.

The Japanese, he says, have made exact models of the Evans, Ronson and other American lighters, using a copper mold, thus saving research, tool-and-die, designing and other costs American companies had to pay.

They now plan to go into large-scale production, using inferior materials and cheap labor, unless Congress blows the whistle on MacArthur.

What They Say

Morgan M. Moulder (Congressman, Second District, Missouri)—Recently during an interview I was misquoted, or quoted in such a way as to leave the inference that I was not in favor of the reduction or repeal of wartime taxes.

There are many items upon which these taxes are imposed which to my mind do not constitute luxuries, but are absolute necessities. For instance, the tax upon cosmetics, which are just as essential to women as neckties are to men. Another item upon which the wartime excise taxes are imposed which I do not consider a luxury is baby oil. These taxes I think should be repealed. Other items upon which the excise taxes are imposed certainly should come in for reduction if not for repeal.

Sometimes it is necessary to compromise in order to achieve at least a partial victory and it may be necessary to do so in this instance.

One point I want to make clear is that while we are all in favor of reducing taxes, it necessarily is impossible to furnish to the people of this nation all of the governmental services that they enjoy without a stable financial program to pay for these services.

It is my hope that by reorganization of various branches of government and by increasing efficiency, we can maintain these services and by reason of the reorganization and increased efficiency, reduce the costs of the services, and that in turn will lower our taxes. Also, it is quite possible that a large reduction of overseas and military expenditures may come about due to the lessening of threats or international disturbances. These reductions, when they materialize, should enable us to reduce all taxes, for at present, these programs constitute a tremendous portion of the federal budget.

National Conference Might do A Lot For Civil Rights Issue

By Bruce Bloss

Democratic leaders in Congress have abandoned plans to push President Truman's civil rights program this year. They promise to do something about it starting next January.

There is no great surprise in this decision. Already in the tenth month of its current session, Congress is weary and in no mood to undertake what surely would be a bitter, long drawn out controversy.

It seems fair to suggest that if the program gets nowhere in 1950, then Administration forces should seek a new approach. For thus far the civil rights bills have been among the hardest non-blooming perennials ever nurtured in Congress. Year after year they are presented, but nothing definite happens.

The House several times has passed one or another of the civil rights measures. The Senate, however, has on no occasion followed suit.

Senate rules permitting opponents of legislation to filibuster have of course been the stumbling block in that chamber. Southern lawmakers invariably talk civil rights bills to death.

After a time consuming debate early this year, the Senate modified its rules governing filibusters. It now requires a two-thirds majority vote to "invoke cloture" — shut off endless talk. The general view therefore is that the obstacles to Senate action are greater rather than smaller.

If this is so, there appears little ground for any confidence in Administration quarters that 1950 will tell a different civil rights story from previous years. All signs point to a complete Senate stalemate so long as those issues are at stake.

In that likely event, why should the Senate continue butting its head against a solid wall?

To be sure, history is full of instances where the dogged perseverance of men devoted to some legislative cause has brought triumph after innumerable failures. But it is questionable whether such persistence would ever pay off in a Senate where a tightly knit southern minority presents a virtually immovable barrier.

What alternative in this legislative program might be considered?

That problem would need careful exploring. One idea that might be productive of new specific proposals for wiping out racial discrimination is a national conference of distinguished leaders from all regions and all walks of life. The South, target of most criticism, would be well represented at such an assembly.

It is entirely possible that out of that meeting would emerge a program that, through emphasis upon measures of regional self-help rather than national control, would recommend itself to the nation as a whole and the South in particular.

Certainly some effort of this sort would hold out more hope than the futile performances we have been witnessing in Congress.

End of The Trail

The federal courts have decreed that Preston Tucker must return his huge Chicago automobile plant to the War Assets Administration, whence it came. That move apparently shatters Tucker's dream of revolutionizing the motor car field with a radically new product.

Since Tucker first acquired the big plant he has built less than 50 cars, none of them on a true assembly-line basis.

Indeed, his output was so slim that he could not ship cars to all his dealers so they could show their customers what they were short of.

So They Say

There can be no depression because nearly 59,000,000 are employed, personal incomes are high, and there is a record increase in savings.

—L. M. Giannini, president of the world's largest bank.

Ruth Millett

Your Husband Shouldn't be a 'Silent Partner' in Marriage

Have you turned your husband into a "silent partner" when it comes to family life? You have—if:

You accept invitations for the of you without first consulting him.

You don't ask him to go along when you select a new piece of furniture for the house.

You make up the guest list for your parties without even showing it to him or asking him if there is anybody he'd especially like to have.

You decide important matters concerning the children all on your own instead of telling them, "Your father and I will talk it over."

You'd be furious if he ever invited somebody to dinner on the spur of the moment, telling you what he has done instead of asking if it would be all right.

Do You Force Friends On Him?

Your "mutual" friends are actually "your" friends and your husband is supposed to like them for the simple reason that you like them or think they are "worth-while."

You do all the family budgeting —because you feel you are a better manager.

You help the children "get around" their father — helping them keep things from him they don't want him to know about, and helping them to get their own way.

You feel free to veto any plan of your husband's that doesn't suit your convenience.

It's fairly easy to turn an easy-going husband into a "silent partner"—because so many men are glad to be relieved of any responsibility around home.

The trick is to get a marriage on the basis of a partnership in which both husband and wife have an equal say—and to keep it there.

The Doctor Says

Oftentimes a Great Deal Can Be Done to Aid Heart Failure

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

If the heart fails to pump enough blood to satisfy the needs of the body, doctors say that heart failure is present. Many difficult conditions can cause heart failure and heart failure can be severe or mild.

A bad attack of rheumatic fever in childhood often injures the heart so seriously that heart failure develops in later years. An infant born with a defective heart usually shows signs of heart failure. Syphilis can act on the heart or large blood vessels so that the heart is not able to do all its work.

In high blood pressure, due to kidney disease, hardening of the arteries, or to some unknown cause, the heart has to work so hard against the pressure that it may fail.

Shortness of breath on slight exertion is one of the most common and earliest signs of heart failure. A sudden, severe, and unexpected loss of consciousness, as soon as the presence of heart failure has been established, tests should be made to find out what is causing the difficulty.

Treatment May Be Easy

Possibly even more important than the cause is the degree or seriousness of the heart failure. In mild cases extensive treatment may not be necessary. The patient may only have been doing too much and merely needs to cut down on the exercise and exertion.

In more severe cases, of course, not only must more rest be taken and the cause, attacked by whatever appropriate measures are available, but also special treatments must be considered. Among such treatments are the use of digitalis. This drug can be given by injection or by mouth.

The diagnosis and treatment of heart failure is so important that it always requires careful study by the physician and complete cooperation between doctor and patient. In many cases much good can be accomplished.

QUESTION: My son is 7 years old and has alopecia areata. He has been losing hair in patches and it is continuing to fall out.

ANSWER: This is a curious condition, the cause of which is not definitely known. In an occasional case all the hair on the head and even eyebrows fall out. After a few months it usually grows back as well as before.

Q's and A's

Q—What is the record deep-sea dive?

A—In August, 1949, Otis Barton, marine explorer, plunged 4500 feet into the Pacific Ocean in his "benthoscope," 27 miles off the California coast.

Q—How many states have been carved out of the original Oregon Territory?

A—When the Territory of Oregon was established in 1846 it embraced the present states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and parts of Montana and Wyoming.

Q—What is the oldest capital city in Europe?

A—Athens, Greece, is the oldest city in Europe serving as a capital.

Q—When were the United States Marines first called Devil Dogs?

A—Marines were first called Devil Dogs by the Germans in 1918.

What alternative in this legislative program might be considered?

That problem would need careful exploring. One idea that might be productive of new specific proposals for wiping out racial discrimination is a national conference of distinguished leaders from all regions and all walks of life. The South, target of most criticism, would be well represented at such an assembly.

It is entirely possible that out of that meeting would emerge a program that, through emphasis upon measures of regional self-help rather than national control, would recommend itself to the nation as a whole and the South in particular.

Certainly some effort of this sort would hold out more hope than the futile performances we have been witnessing in Congress.

End of The Trail

The federal courts have decreed that Preston Tucker must return his huge Chicago automobile plant to the War Assets Administration, whence it came. That move apparently shatters Tucker's dream of revolutionizing the motor car field with a radically new product.

Since Tucker first acquired the big plant he has built less than 50 cars, none of them on a true assembly-line basis.

Indeed, his output was so slim that he could not ship cars to all his dealers so they could show their customers what they were short of.

So They Say

There can be no depression because nearly 59,000,000 are employed, personal incomes are high, and there is a record increase in savings.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan has nearly bogged down with difficulties, not the least being the arrival of twin sons, and Tod's inability to forget Liz Conover, who flitted him. After Tod's graduation from college, they live in the guest cottage of an old chum Rick Morris, while Tod commutes. Tod suspects that Rick is in love with Jenny. Meanwhile, Tod's mother, who dislikes Jenny, suggests that Tod stay in the city all week, returning home at week-ends. Then Tod stays away one week-end. Jenny borrows Rick's car and finds a snugly basement apartment in the city—so she can live with Tod. Tod thinks it's all right—for something "temporary."

put on his coat and went out, muttering something about cigars. Tomorrow, she decided, she would see Mrs. Duncan. She could ask the landlady to sit with the twins for an hour.

TOD walked briskly down the shabby street, guilt washing through him in sickening waves. He couldn't stand to have Jenny turn those brown eyes of hers on him so sympathetically, asking what was troubling him.

For months now, ever since he had gone to work for the firm, he had been seeing Liz Conover. She was working for her father's advertising firm, which handled Tod's company's business. He saw Liz nearly every week. She brought over the advertising copy personally, instead of sending it by messenger.

He had thought he would tell Jenny casually of having seen Liz. But there had never seemed to be an opportune moment in the beginning. And now seeing her had come to be something different, something he looked forward to with trembling hands and a thudding heart and a feeling of contempt for himself. He couldn't mention Liz casually to Jenny now.

He was stirred up. And that was what Liz wanted. He was sure of it the day his boss, Mr. Freytag, said, "Duncan, Miss Conover from the advertising agency says you ought to be handling our advertising layouts. She told me you were good at that sort of thing, that her father had tried to get you into their firm."

He admitted he had been interested in advertising, and from then on it was settled. He had conferred with Liz over the copy. Each meeting had been more tense and filled with undercurrents than the one before. Liz knew her power over him.

As he walked along now through the night he wondered if it wouldn't be best to make a clean breast of it. Why not say, "You see how it is, Jenny—having been in love with her once I feel upset over the contact. But I'll get over it. She doesn't mean anything to me really. Just be patient with me, Jenny."

No, that wouldn't make sense. He'd been married to Jenny for a year and a half now, and if Liz still had the power to tear him to pieces inside, there wasn't any use trying to explain it to Jenny.

No wonder Jenny knew something was tormenting him.

THE next day Jenny put the babies to bed with bottles for their naps at 2 o'clock and asked Mrs. Slattery, the landlady, to sit in the apartment while she took a taxi to the Madison street apartment where Tod's mother lived.

Mrs. Duncan didn't seem to be home. One of the neighbor women in the building talked to Jenny about her.

"She's always takin' nerve medicine, Miz Duncan. She goes around to different drug stores gettin' that prescription filled."

"She does?" Jenny was shocked.

"Yeah. She's always doped up with it. I said to her the other day, 'I said, Miz Duncan, why do you take so much of that nerve medicine. You know it ain't good for you. What if the doctor found out?' And she said, 'Nobody's gonna tell him! And I says, 'But why do you take so much of it?' and she says, 'Because it makes me feel like I'm floatin' on a cloud. I forget my troubles. I forget I don't feel good and none of my kids come to see me no more.'"

Jenny escaped after a while. After she had told Tod he went that night to see his mother. But there was little he could do. Three weeks later, in December, she fell down a flight of stairs and was taken to the hospital and then to a nursing home.

Tod was relieved in a way, because he knew the medicine habit would be broken, but on the other hand with money being paid out each week to the nursing home his financial situation became more and more desperate.

McKENNEY Answers Your CANASTA Questions

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

The biggest prize offered in the game of Canasta is the canasta bonus.

Do not play for natural canastas. If you can get a natural canasta that does not cost you anything, all right; but it is a mistake to risk 300 points in an attempt to get 200 points more. Your opponents may go down, and you have lost your 300-point canasta. Form as many canastas as you can—mixed or natural—and form them as quickly as possible.

If you see you have your opponents locked so that they cannot go out, and you have plenty of plays on the board, you can try for a natural canasta if you want to, provided you have melded at least one canasta already. But even then, if you get caught with a wild card in your hand with which you could have made a completed canasta, your partner is justified in criticizing you severely for not completing a canasta with it.

Question: Can two canastas of the same rank be formed by a partnership? Suppose that we put down four eight-spots and then add three wild cards to it, forming a mixed canasta. Could we later put down our four eight-spots and add three wild cards, forming another eight-spot canasta?

Answer: Yes, you can have two canastas of the same rank. However, if you meld a mixed canasta as described above, then gradually add four more eights to it, you cannot add three more wild cards and make a second canasta out of the second group of four eights.

Having placed a card with a meld, you can never separate it from that meld.

You may add the four eights and the three wild cards if you want to, but you will get the bonus for only one canasta. The added cards will be scored at their point value only. In order to score two canasta bonuses for cards of the same rank, you must meld them in two separate and distinct canastas.

Question: Someone told me that after completing a canasta, it is not wise to add cards to it. Is that true?

Answer: Yes, that is true. Especially if you meld a natural canasta, and then draw the eight natural card, you certainly should not play it on the canasta. The eighth card is as good as a black three for the purpose of stopping your lefthand opponent from picking up the pack.

If you have canasta consisting of five natural cards and two wild cards, and then you begin to draw

SITUATION: Your child says some very uncomplimentary things about his teacher because of the way she has handled a certain problem at school.

WRONG WAY: Without looking into the matter further, side in with your child.

RIGHT WAY: Don't, without making sure of the facts, side in with a child against a teacher, if you want the child to have respect for the teacher.

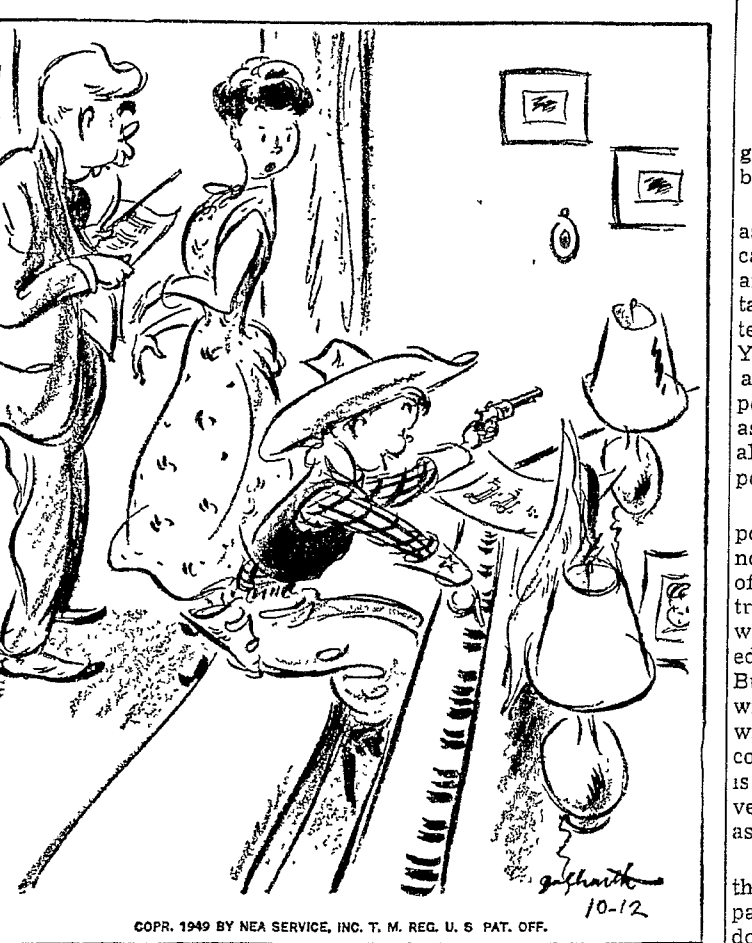

the other natural cards of that rank, do not meld them unless you are going out. Use them to stop the opponent from taking the pack.

Many players hate to discard an ace, especially if they have a canasta of aces; but the ace may keep the opponent from taking the pack. Remember that you may get the pack at your next turn and you will get the ace back.

Question: Does a partnership have to have a completed canasta before they go out?

Answer: A completed canasta is required to go out, but you can form the canasta and go out at the same time.

Mr. McKenney is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions on Canasta in his column.

"Sometimes I think maybe he's right, Mrs. Jones—he should be a cowboy instead of another Paderewski!"

Storm Lashes Summer Colony

The wreckage of several pleasure boats lie among the splintered wreckage of lake shore docks on Lake Minnetonka, summer colony near Minneapolis, Minn., to attest the violence of the windstorm that struck the area. Dozens of boats, large and small, were battered by the storm. Ashore many homes were damaged as winds reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour. (AP WIREPHOTO)

PAINFUL WAIT—Gayle Keen, 20, one of three persons injured when 89-mile-an-hour winds toppled a 60-foot chimney onto a wing of a Minneapolis, Minn., hotel, was in great pain as she waited for rescuers to reach her in the wreckage. She had been attending an airline hostess school in the hotel. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Little Old Lady Is Jailed As Vagrant

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 12—(AP)—An alert little old lady of the "grandmother" type was picked off a train here and jailed as a vagrant.

She was booked as Mrs. Frances Worthington, 73, wanted at Lansing, Kas., for violation of parole from Kansas state industrial farm for women.

Police inspector E. F. Parker, who made the arrest, said Mrs. Worthington had been arrested 24 times since 1910 on charges ranging from shop-lifting, through arson and grand larceny.

The 5 foot 2 inch, 130-pound woman, held open house in her cell for newspaper reporters. She estimated to them that she had gotten and spent $500,000 "all through the years."

"I always did good with it," she said. "I never cared too much for nice clothes."

She said she worked about six years for Benjamin (Bugsie) Siegel, Los Angeles gambler who was assassinated, carrying messages and letters for him.

"Three days before he died he said 'you've been awfully good to me, and anything might happen at any time,' and he gave me a check for $10,000, written to cash, and said 'cash it right away.' It's all gone now."

As the reporters left she said "I've wanted to help people all my life. I want to train now as a nurses' aide for World War III."

J. C. Penney Strikers Go Back to Work

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12—(AP)—Some 400 warehouse workers of the J. C. Penney company went back to work Tuesday. They had been on strike since Sept. 17.

The back-to-work movement followed an agreement between the AFL warehouse and distribution workers' union and the company to resume negotiations on a new contract. The talks will begin Thursday.

Some 25 issues, including a union demand for a $5 a week pay raise will be discussed.

Confer With President On Air Groups

House Refused To Back Down On 58; Senate Wants 48

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(AP)—The Senate appropriations committee voted unanimously Tuesday to confer with Pres. Truman about a hot Senate-House dispute over the size of the Air Force.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) told reporters a subcommittee will call on Mr. Truman as soon as possible.

Dispute Over Funds
The dispute is over whether to provide money for a 58-group Air Force as voted by the House, or a 48-group force called in the Senate measure.

Thomas said the Senate committee wants to find out whether the President would allow the extra money for a 58-group force to be spent if the Senate acceded to the House demands, or whether he would "impound" the funds.

The House, by a vote of 305 to 1, refused yesterday to back down from the 58-group program.

President Asked For 48
"We want to get the President's reaction to all this," Thomas said.

Mr. Truman requested funds for only 48 groups. Thomas hinted that if the President maintains his stand for the smaller air force, the House will back down.

the Senate might try to force the House to accept the smaller figure.

The Senate-House dispute has been holding up final approval of funds for the defense establishment for the current year. Technically, the armed forces have been without authority to spend money since last midnight—when the fifth emergency extension approved by Congress expired.

Newly Created Ambassador To U. N. From United States
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(AP)—President Truman Tuesday nominated Ernest A. Gross, assistant secretary of state, to be deputy U. S. representative to the United Nations with rank of ambassador. The post is a newly-created one.

Mr. Truman also nominated Gross and John C. Ross to be deputy representatives to the U. N. Security Council.

Jack K. McFall, Washington, D. C., foreign service officer was nominated to be an assistant secretary of state, replacing Gross.

Tomb For Columbus Being Built

AP Newsfeatures

LIGHTHOUSE MEMORIAL — A tomb for Columbus is now being built in Ciudad Trujillo, the capital of the Dominican Republic. These views of the concrete and steel structure are taken from a plaster model. The real building will be a kilometer long and 120 feet high in the form of a recumbent cross. The 21 American republics are working together on the $5,000,000 building to be completed by 1952. It will be a lighthouse, a museum and library besides a tomb. History of each of the 21 republics will be carved on the front of the structure by sculptors from the countries involved. The work was started April 14, 1949, Pan American day. The design was made by J. L. Gleaves of Scotland to symbolize the international brotherhood of the western hemisphere. The sponsors of the project say it will be the biggest memorial to a single man since the building of the pyramids. The light on the top will be designed to guide both ships and planes.

Military Prisoner In Escape From C-82 Near Nashville, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 12—(P)—The Arkansas State police last night announced capture of a military prisoner who earlier had parachuted from a military plane over Nashville, Ark.

State police said the soldier was caught 5½ miles southeast of Nashville at 5:30 p. m. (CST) by members of the Howard county sheriff's office.

The military prisoner was taken to Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Ark., Oct. 12—(P)—An Airforce soldier made a daring escape Tuesday afternoon by bailing out of a military plane over this southwestern Arkansas area.

It was not known whether he landed safely. But Arkansas state police said they understood the parachute opened.

A posse of officers and civilians began a search of heavily wooded hills east of here.

From Forbes Air Base At Shreveport, La., the Barksdale Air Force base public information officer identified the prisoner as Pvt. Howard Shinneman of the Forbes Air Force Base at Topeka, Kas.

He and nine other prisoners were being transferred to Barksdale Field, the future home of the fourth AFB.

When the plane was about 30 miles east of here Shinneman rushed past one of the guards aboard and pushed out a rear door, parachuting to the earth. The incident occurred about 1:30 p. m. (CST).

The pilot immediately radioed the Civil Aeronautics Administration office in Texarkana to notify authorities.

The CAA office in Texarkana, 40 miles south of here, immediately notified Texarkana police, who notified Howard county officers and state police. State police car was dispatched from the Hope district office.

Jumps From Rear Door The plane, a C-82 twin craft commonly known as the "flying boxcar," has two doors at the rear of the fuselage designed for use by parachutes in time of war.

The public information office said Shinneman was being taken to Shreveport to face a general court-martial but added it did not know the specific charge.

Shinneman's wife lives in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and his father in Clinton, Ill., the public information office said. (Street addresses not immediately available.)

The information office described Shinneman as five feet four inches tall, brunet, 23 years of age, weighing between 160 and 175 pounds, and wearing the uniform of a private in the Air Force.

The CAA office in Texarkana, 40 miles south of here, immediately notified Texarkana police, who notified Howard county officers and state police. A state police car was dispatched from the Hope district office.

Predicts Slim Chance For The Jayhawks

Against The Powerful Sooner Team Saturday

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12—(AP)—Most Big Seven Conference followers agree that a prescription offered by Bill (Red) Hogan would be the best medicine against the kind of football played by the Oklahoma Sooners.

Hogan, a University of Kansas scout who watched Oklahoma beat Texas 20-14 last week, says the Kansas Jayhawks would have to send its entire 35-man squad onto the field at one time to have a chance against the powerful Oklahomaans.

Kansas plays Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., Saturday. It will be the first conference start of the year for Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

"Oklahoma is better today than the Sooner squad that beat North Carolina in the Sugar Bowl," Hogan says. "It will take a great team to beat them."

Rely On Aerial Attack
Kansas, which tied Oklahoma for the championship in 1947, hopes to stay in the game on the passing of Dick Gilman, one of the nation's leading aerialists last year, and southpaw sophomore Dick Bogue.

Kansas concentrated yesterday on pass plays they plan to use against Oklahoma.

Elsewhere around the Big Seven:

The Iowa State Cyclones prepared for the coming invasion of Kansas State at Ames, Iowa. Coach Abe Stuber's men worked overtime on blocking, punting and extra point conversions.

Kansas State concentrated on the offensive, which has made them look good in beating Colorado and losing by a touchdown and extra point to Nebraska.

Missouri Tigers

The Missouri Tigers worried about a defense for their fourth successive tough non-conference game. Missouri plays Illinois at Champaign Saturday.

"We're pretty battered after three hard games," Coach Don Faurot said.

The Tigers won their first game 21-7 over Oklahoma A. and M. last week. They lost to one Big Ten team, Ohio State, 34-35, in the season opener, and to Southern Methodist by a one-point margin the following week.

Nebraska will clash with Penn State and Colorado with the University of Oregon, both away from home.

Big Celebration For Grid Coach

SELINGROVE, Pa., Oct. 12—(AP)—They're planning a rousing big celebration here Oct. 22 for the "Grand Old Man of Football," who at 87 still feels he's "too young to retire."

Invitations have been sent out to more than 100 of the nation's top grid coaches to join in playing homage to Amos Alonzo Stagg on his 60th consecutive year in college coaching.

A testimonial dinner, torch light parade, rally and the Susquehanna-Upsala homecoming game are scheduled in honor of the man who is considered football's greatest inventor as well as a symbol for character and sportsmanship. Stagg played his collegiate football under the famed Walter Camp at Yale in 1888-89. In 1897, he pitched the Eli baseball team to a 2-0 victory over the old Boston Nationals and turned down several major league offers.

He began his pigskin tutoring at Springfield (Mass.) college in 1890. Two years later, he moved to the University of Chicago where he held sway for 40 years. When a retirement was suggested by university officials, he resigned and accepted a position at the College of the Pacific in California. There he was selected "Coach of the Year" in 1943. Three years later, he resisted another move to be "put out to pasture" and joined his son at this small Lutheran college in central Pennsylvania.

Negro Boxer Dies From A Brain Injury

Bussey Collapsed In Fight With Luther Rawlings In Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 12 — (AP) — A young Negro boxer, felled by a smashing head blow in the ring Monday night, died the next day with a blood clot on the brain.

Death of Talmadge Bussey, 26, was the eighth recorded ring fatality in the world this year. The Negro lightweight fell unconscious in the ninth round of a furious battle with Luther Rawlings of Chicago. Referee Herman Spinelli called the fight and awarded Rawlings a knock-out.

Rushed to St. Mary's hospital, Bussey was operated on for a blood clot. He died 11 hours later.

Police Begin Investigation
Coroner Samuel B. Milton ordered a post mortem examination tonight. Police began an investigation.

The feature bout at Arcadia Roller Rink was a slugfest from the start, Rawlings himself was knocked down in the sixth round and he said later he couldn't remember a thing after that.

It was a revenge fight for Bussey. A month ago he lost a split decision to Rawlings at Marigold Gardens in Chicago.

The white hot temper of the battle spread over a frantic crowd of 907 spectators. When Bussey fell and the referee kept his seconds from touching him, the crowd surged toward the ring. Police had to hold them back.

Gaining the upper hand, Rawlings pressed his advantage in the eighth round. Just before the bell, he crashed a bullet left to Bussey's jaw. Bussey thudded to the floor. The bell saved him.

Collapsed In Ninth Round
Still groggy, Bussey staggered out for the ninth round. But he lasted only a couple of blows before he fell again—unconscious.

Dr. Joseph Calahan, Michigan commission doctor, worked over him for 10 minutes. Then the prostrate fighter was carried to the dressing room where an emergency crew of firemen applied a pulmotor.

Fifteen minutes later an ambulance took him to St. Mary's hospital. He remained unconscious after the operation and died at 1 p. m. (EST).

The young lightweight, a native

Honolulu, knocked out Arturo Barron, 144½, Los Angeles, 1.

Action Tonight In Local Ring

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock, the tone of the bell will open the second wrestling watches of the 1949-50 season at the Sedalia Armory, Ninth street and Ohio avenue.

The action will start soon after Jack Suzek, Chicago and Armando Fernandez of Mexico City climb into the new ring in the one fall or 30-minute time limit special match. Fernandez, who is making his first visit to Sedalia.

After one of the wrestlers meet their test in the opening event, the semi-final match will get underway with Walter Siros, Montreal, Canada and Ronnie Etchison to grapple for the path which may lead them to the heavyweight title division.

Plenty of action is in store for the local fans when Bobby Bruns, master of the scientific-styled heavyweights, clashes with Lord Albert Mills, master of rough-housing mayhem, in the feature match.

Bruns is more or less primed for this match, having already conquered six straight conquests. Things will more than likely be a lot different than last week for the Britisher, who roughed his way last week, when he faces Bruns in the ring.

Jack Hader will be the third man in the ring.

TOKYO, Oct. 12—(AP)—The San Francisco Seals arrived today to a thunderous welcome for their "bicycle series" with Japanese and GI baseball teams.

Japanese officials expect a super-capacity crowd of 48,000 at the opening game Saturday with the country's strongest team, the Tokyo Giants.

Only 19 Major Grid Teams Undeclared

Record Will Drop When Undeclared Teams Meet Saturday

By Murray Rose

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—High pressure schedules are making all-winning college football teams hard to find.

Mighty Michigan and plenty of other powers absorbed licks last week for the first time this season.

A quick check of the records of the eleven teams that played big time teams from September through October, shows only 19 major schools which have won 'em all thus far. Included in the list are five teams who have only played twice.

Game of The Week

Saturday a couple of other heads will roll from the list too. It has to happen when Notre Dame (3-0), the nation's No. 1 team, entertains formidable Tulane (3-0), the fourth-ranked squad, in the game of the week.

Cornell (3-0) and Yale (2-0), a couple of rugged Ivy leaguers, will bang heads at New Haven. Minnesota (3-0), the No. 5 team, and California (4-0), No. 9, also are in for plenty of trouble this week. Both meet unbeaten but once-tied outfits in games that have a Rose Bowl flavor.

Titles May Be Decided

The Gophers are matched with Ohio State (2-0-1) in the tilt that may decide the Big Ten title while the Big Bears of California take on the Trojans of Southern California (2-0-1) in the contest that could very well decide the Pacific Coast Conference race.

Army (3-0), the No. 2 combination, takes on thrice-beaten Harvard and should march along.

Oklahoma (3-0), No. 3, also has a breather in Kansas.

The all winning teams and their records include:

Four victories — California, UCLA, Kentucky, Villanova.

Three victories — Notre Dame, Army, Baylor, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Tulane, North Carolina, Virginia, Minnesota, Oklahoma.

Two victories — Brown, Boston U., Pennsylvania, Yale, Southern Methodist.

Just a slight notch below those teams are a few other all-winners like Wyoming (4-0), Drake (4-0), Ohio U. (3-0), Miami, (Fla.) (2-0), and Bucknell (2-0).

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—Thirty-three year old Frank A. Parker, who has toured the world as a tennis player for more than half his life, today agreed to turn professional and tour as a member of the Jack Kramer-Pancho Gonzales professional troupe.

Bobby Riggs, tournament manager, said that Parker will come here Thursday to sign a contract and will make his professional debut against Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador, at Madison Square Garden Oct. 25. Parker will receive $500 a week for a six-month period for his part in the show, which will tour 100 cities.

Clayton Tonnemaker Won Top Honors as The Best Lineman

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, Oct. 12— (AP) — Clayton Tonnemaker, rugged 240-pound Minnesota center, was selected today as the lineman of the week in the third Associated Press poll of the season.

Tonnemaker's devastating play against Northwestern on Saturday won him top honors. He was outstanding on defense as line-backer and made many important tackles.

Minnesota won, 21-7, and in the words of Don Heap, assistant Northwestern coach, "it was that Tonnemaker who wrecked us in the first half." Minnesota held a 14-0 lead at the half.

In the opinion of George Svendsen, Minnesota assistant coach, "Tony is the best college center and best pro prospect I've ever seen. Minnesota never has had an All-America center, but Tony will correct that."

Previous Awards

Tonnemaker joins Howard Houston, Harvard tackle, and Art Weiner, North Carolina end, who gained the lineman award in the first two polls.

Others who received high praise for their play last week included William and Mary's 235-pound tackle, Lou Creekmur, who made 16 tackles although playing only part of the game against Virginia Military; Bob Jablonski, Yale guard; and J. D. Ison, Baylor end. Ison caught seven passes out of seven for 60 yards against Arkansas.

This week's nominations also included:

Tackles—Stan West, Oklahoma and Ray Cicia, Wake Forest.

Tackles—Paul Tetreault, Navy; Bob Gain, Ky.; Leo Nommellini, Minnesota and Ray Krouse, Maryland.

Ends—Harold Hatfield, Southern California. Joe Clodt, Washington, and Jim Owens, Oklahoma.

requires skill aplenty!

And so does the job of furnishing pure, clean, sanitary water to a community the size of Sedalia. Employees must spend years of careful training to become efficient at their specific tasks. The degree of skill necessary in maintaining the standard of service so vital to our daily living cannot be acquired overnight. We recognize in football a sport that does much to encourage the development of skill, sportsmanship, and health, and join with other loyal Sedalians in wishing the Smith-Cotton Tigers a very successful season.

Truman Aide is Honored at a Dinner by 'Vets'

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—(AP)—Take it from Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan: He's a snipper of government "red tape" with disdain for those who call him "unethical."

"I'm considered in many circles to be very unethical," President Truman's army aide confided to a friendly audience, "and I'm sure I will continue to be."

"There are only two people I have to please—Mr. Truman and Mrs. Vaughan. As long as I please them, I am satisfied."

"I've made various suggestions as to what other people can do. You can interpolate your own interpretation of that."

The occasion was a $2-a-plate party given in Vaughan's honor yesterday by members of various veterans organizations. They gathered to show appreciation for the various chores Vaughan has handled as President Truman's coordinator of veterans affairs.

It was a far cry from the Senate committee hearings at which investigators, on the hunt for "influence peddling" in Washington, inquired into some of Gen. Vaughan's non-veteran activities. In fact the toastmaster called it a party of "a very extraordinary type."

The scene was the upstairs "Fame Room" of the 400 restaurant where a photograph of Washington made from a navy jet fighter 48,846 feet above the capital appeared on a wall recently after being withheld from general publication.

Gift For General
Harold Keats, a past national commander of the Amvets—the American Veterans of World War II—had a gift for the general, a fitted leather case.

It was, Keats said apologetically, such "a little token for a man who has done such a big job."

He said Vaughan, as co-ordinator of veterans affairs, has "never kept track of all the things he has done for us veterans."

After Keats told of how Vaughan cut "red tape" to expedite help for veterans, Gen. Vaughan arose.

He told a story of an army mess sergeant who wanted insecticide to kill some ants that infested his mess hall.

"The quartermaster told him he'd give him the insecticide if the ants were inside the mess hall, but if the ants were outside the mess hall, that made them engineer ants and he'd have to go to the engineers for help," he said with a grin.

In working for veterans, he said, "we have to combat guys like that to get things done."

The general had grave doubts that all the veterans organizations should be united. He said some people advocate uniting all the churches. If that happened, he said, they would be split into "14 factions."

"If everybody agreed with everybody else you couldn't run a horse race," he went on. "You couldn't make progress."

"Think of the difficulty Mrs. Vaughan would have had in capturing me. She had enough competition as it was."

Sweet Potato Vine Productive

The thirty some odd inmates living at Buena Vista home will be assured of plenty of yams to eat this winter, along with other home-grown vegetables and fruits grown on the farm, under the supervision of W. F. Wasson, farm manager.

While Mr. Wasson was digging up sweet potatoes, he pulled a vine which had in excess of sixteen potatoes on it, when dug up. One or two were quite large and the entire vine and its production weighed several pounds, practically filling a 25-pound grocery

Why? Some People Urge British Emigration

WASHINGTON—Curtain raisers on the British-American talks here have felt that some way must be found to put more American dollars into British hands to help them buy here the food and machines they need.

But now the Population Reference Bureau, a private research agency, comes up with the statement that Britain has 15,000,000 too many people to support no matter what is done about exports, American tariffs or devaluation of the pound.

Here's what the Bureau says about Britain's population problems and why it thinks financial deals will not help Britain:

"Great Britain contains more than two and a half times as many people per square mile as Europe and more than 11 times as many as the United States."

Even the "per square mile" figure is unimportant, since all square miles do not raise food. On this score, the Bureau says: "No other country in the world, with the exception of Japan, is as crowded as the United Kingdom. For example, Italy, Germany and India contain less than half as many people per square mile of arable land."

Britain jumped her population from 20,000,000 to 49,000,000 in the past 100 years, the Bureau says, "on the strength of her supremacy in industrialization, trade, naval force and foreign assets. Today she is supreme in none of those categories."

The Bureau thinks Britain's crisis is "chronic" as long as it tries to support so many people on so few acres.

Bureau experts advocate spreading the British over the Commonwealth, particularly Canada and Australia. It thinks such an outflow of British to other areas in the world would "(1) better the level of living of the immigrants, (2) help make the United Kingdom self-supporting, (3) strengthen the British Commonwealth, (4) save the American people billions of dollars in capital and natural resources and (5) help to protect the United States on at least three sides in case of war."

The bureau points out "It is for

Here's what the FARMALL SYSTEM means to YOU!

For handling two 14-inch plow bottoms and comparable work, FARMALL H (above) is the choice.

The Farmall System of Farming is an American institution. Its roots are in the soil... on your farm, on the farms of your neighbors.

To increase productivity and speed up field work, look to the Farmall System for the answer. A Farmall Tractor and matched machines can mean greater operating economy and efficiency on the family farm—and that brings better living!

Five basic models make up the Farmall lineup. There's a size for every farm, an endless selection of Farmall equipment to work in every crop and soil condition.

The answer to the power problem on your farm can be found in the Farmall System... and we have full details on the model that fits your farm.

CLEAN SHELLING—LARGE CAPACITY LIGHTEST RUNNING LEADING SELLERS—MM SHELLERS

MM Shellers are favorites of the nation's corn belt because of the ease with which they handle either snapped or husked corn without adjustments of the shelling mechanism. The only attention needed for snapped corn is the simple installation of the husking pegs on cylinder cover and flights. MM Shellers require least operating power for their capacity since the main drive pulley, cylinder, and suction fan are all mounted on a single main shaft. This eliminates extra drives and supplies the power directly to the shelling operation for lightest running.

With the Model D you can shell up to 300 bushels of husked corn per hour on 1 to 2-plow tractor power. Large farm and custom operators choose the Model E that shells up to 1,200 bushels of husked corn on 2 to 3-plow tractor power.

You will appreciate these MM features: durable construction for years of dependable service... MM gentle positive shelling action that prevents cracked kernels and remember this—the cobs aren't broken all to bits by MM cylinder shellers... The dual fans give you cleanest of all shelled corn.

See us now for complete facts on these MM Shellers.

Claude A. For Cabinet Members

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(AP)—Cabinet members, who haven't had a raise in pay since 1925, got good news Tuesday.

Senate and House conferees agreed to boost cabinet members' salaries from $15,000 to $22,500 a year. They also approved a pay raise for more than 200 other topflight federal officials—at an annual cost of $1,087,000.

The bill still must be approved finally by the House and Senate, but no opposition is expected there.

And it still must be signed by President Truman, but he's expected to do that enthusiastically.

Besides raising cabinet salaries, here's what the pay bill will do:

Undersecretary of Defense Steve Early will get $20,000 annually (he has been getting $14,500), and the armed forces secretaries will receive $18,000 a year. The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force now are paid $14,000.

Most of the undersecretaries of the various departments will go up from $10,330 to $17,500.

Also in the $17,500 group are the director of the budget bureau, the federal security administrator, veterans administrator, comptroller general and the assistant to the attorney general.

At $16,000 is J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, who now gets $14,000.

Members of boards and commissions will go up from $10,330 to $15,000.

Mr. Truman's special assistants and secretaries also were remembered, but it will be up to him to decide how much each will get.

Mrs. Russell Urie and sister Mrs. E. H. Lyster and Mr. Lyster of Chicago, Ill., went to Kansas City Saturday evening, October 1, where they attended the marriage of Miss Janice Schell to Mr. Richard Eugene Sewell at the Westport Methodist church at 8 o'clock. A reception followed which they also attended.

Mr. Sewell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sewell and was reared in Sweet Springs. He is a grandson of Mrs. Sara Sewell and nephew of Mrs. Urie of this city.

Mrs. Irvin Stuerke was hostess to the Weber Extension club at her home recently. There were 18 members present who answered roll call by giving their most embarrassing moment. The club decided to send $3 to the county 4-H club. Names were drawn for Sunshine Pals. After the meeting the hostess served refreshments of ice cream, cookies and coffee. A very pleasant afternoon was spent.

The opening meeting of the year of the Business and Professional Women's club was held in the home economics room at the high school. The membership committee Mrs. John R. Blythe, Miss Marjorie Lynch, Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mrs. Guy Hall served dinner. The tables were centered with arrangements of gold clubs, tennis rockets and balls and footballs, suggestive of the games. Mrs. Blythe, the president, presided and conducted the business session. The evening was spent playing games.

He noted that a lot of people won't take part in politics because, they say, they don't want to have anything to do with "dirty politicians."

"I have been around politicians all of my life and I have seen very few crooked ones and hardly any dirty ones," Hendren said.

He added that if Missourians don't like their public officials they should see that better candidates are chosen next time or even run for public office themselves.

"People who refuse to stand for public office have little right to criticize the choices made at the ballot box."
